COLD BLOODED ACT.

A Brutal Husband Shoots and Kills His Wife.

Jealousy Said to be the Cause of the Deed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. This morning Charles Peterson, of 106 Trinity Place, shot and killed his wife, Ruth, and then committed suicide by shooting himself.

Peterson was a Norwegian sailor and was the father of five children. The murder was a cold-blooded act, entirely unprovoked. From what the children and neighbors of the couple say, the man was a brute who seemed to be jealous of every act of his wife's. He was dissatisfied because his brother and sister-in-law made their home with her.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $462,286; from customs, $570,365, and miscellaneous, $5,757. The National Bank notes received to-day for redemption amounted to $250,147.

AN ATTACK OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Fall River Man Locked Up in Jail in South Bend, Ind.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 20. William B. Smith, of No. 50 Laurel street, Fall River, Mass., is locked up in jail here. He was found yesterday in the Chicago & Grand Trunk Railroad station biting at the floor and snapping like a dog. The police overpowered him after a fierce fight. In a lucid interval last evening, Smith said he was bitten by a dog five months ago, and he has had four series of these attacks. He says he has been examined by prominent physicians who pronounce his malady a form of hydrophobia and incurable.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Wage Earners in New Orleans Refuse to Accept a Cut Down.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 20. To-day the trade of this port, as far as work on the levee front is concerned, is at a standstill. Stevedores gave formal notice some days ago that they would on and after the 19th inst., only pay wages of a reduced rate. The reduction meant a cut of perhaps 20 to 25 per cent. to the wage earners. The men refused to accept the cut.

Shoe Lasters on a Strike.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 20. The operators on consolidated method lasting machine employed at Barrows & Rice's shoe contractor's shop struck this morning. Seventy-five consolidated machines have been in use in this city, and the lasters on all will probably strike unless a new price list is adopted. One firm has already adopted it.

WEAVERS' MEETING CALLED

To Take Action on the Wage Question.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 20. Secretary Whitehead, in a call for a special meeting of weavers Dec. 21, says: This meeting is called for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the wage question. We believe the condition of the cloth market warrants us in requesting the manufacturers for a restoration of the recent reduction. The prevailing rates of wages paid are inadequate for the amount of work performed, and the margin of profit at the present time is sufficient to allow the manufacturers to advance wages at least 10 per cent. and make a reasonable return to the stockholders on the capital invested.

At the commencement of the vacation, August 20, the margin between 8 pounds of middling uplands cottons and 45 yards of print cloth was 60.62. The present margin is 76.75, or a difference of over 16 cents on 45 yards of cloth, although it is admitted that print cuts are considerably over 45 yards. We think the time is very appropriate for an earnest discussion of this important question, and hope at the beginning of the new year you will be receiving better wages, for the sacrifice you made in putting the market in its present profitable stage.

FROM BIDDEFORD.

Action Brought to Recover Value of Barn and Contents Burned.

BIDDEFORD, Dec. 20. A civil suit was to-day brought by George W. Wakefield, of Lyman, against Dennis O'Connor, of this city, to recover the value of the barn and contents burned by Alexander Briggs, two years ago. It is alleged that Briggs was intoxicated when he set the fire, and that he purchased liquors of O'Connor's drug store.

THE GORHAM MURDER.

James Lewis Welch Before Court in Portland.

PORTLAND, Dec. 20. James Lewis Welch, charged with the murder of Byron G. Coburn, at Gorham, was this morning brought before the Municipal court. He was dressed in a dark suit and wore a long heavy cape instead of an overcoat. He is a very small, inoffensive looking man, wearing a heavy light mustache, shaving thick hair, somewhat darker. He had no counsel and Judge Gould appointed Hon. George M. Seiders to act in that capacity. Welch was not arraigned but the case was continued until to-morrow to enable the counsel to get ready. Coleman and Graffam were ordered to recognize in $2,000 each. They could not get sureties and will stay in jail. They are wanted simply as witnesses.

A CRASH THAT DIDN'T COME.

Young Boys Found Guilty of Attempted Train Wrecking.

Their Object to Kill a School Teacher.

PEABODY, Mass., Dec. 20. Kenneth Belmer and Chester Palmer, thirteen-year-old boys, were in court this morning, charged with attempted train wrecking at Lynnfield, on the B. & M. Road, several weeks ago. Four fish plates were found tightly wedged into a switch in such a manner that trackmen say would have derailed a train if they had not been discovered in season. They were found and removed just before a train was due.

Young Belmer has confessed that he attempted to throw the train from the track and implicates the Palmer boy. He said that his object was to try and kill a Miss Howland, a school teacher in Lynnfield, who had assisted another teacher in whipping the boys and who rides daily to her home in Wakefield in a train. Belmer says he and the Palmer boy after talking the matter over, went up the track and drove the fish plates between the rails. They then went to their homes near by and listened for the crash which did not come. Miss Howland was not in the train that was endangered, but in the one following it some ten minutes later.

The Belmer boy made a statement in corroboration of the above story and was adjudged guilty and turned over to the State board of charities and correction, Judge Merrill suggesting that he be placed in the Lyman School. The Palmer boy, who is but ten years old instead of thirteen, as before stated, was placed on probation.

ALLEGED BANK WRECKER.

Warren F. Putnam on Trial at Concord, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 20. The trial of Warren F. Putnam, late President and alleged wrecker of the National Granite State Bank, Exeter, was began in the United States Circuit Court before Judge Aldrich and the jury this forenoon.

District Attorney Branch opened for the government, stating in detail various transactions by which it is claimed Mr. Putnam embezzled and abstracted funds and bonds of the bank, aggregating forty thousand. Mr. Branch moved to amend by inserting the words "of Exeter" in each count of the indictment after the words "Granite State National Bank" so that the corporate name alleged in the bill be "Granite State National Bank of Exeter." He argued his motion at length, citing numerous precedents in support.

When he finished a recess was taken until afternoon. The counsel for Mr. Putnam was heard in the afternoon. The purpose of Mr. Branch's amendment was to obviate the same objection raised and sustained in the case of the National Bank of the Commonwealth, in Manchester, when the court instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty against the defendant president because the corporate name of the bank set out in the indictment without the words "of Manchester." The matter of amending the indictment in the United States Courts is a novel one, and it is said that this is the first time the precise question involved was ever raised.

Just before the adjournment of the United States Circuit Court this forenoon, Mr. Streeter, council for Putnam, indicted for wrecking the National Bank of the Granite State, objected to the amendment of the indictment submitted by District Attorney Branch, on the ground it offered prematurely. Mr. Branch then offered a certificate of the Comptroller of Currency and other documentary evidence to show that the bank was incorporated as the "National Bank of the Granite State of Exeter," but the counsel for the respondent objected to its admission because of variance with the allegation in the indictment. Without passing upon the question Judge Aldrich ordered recess for dinner.

ELECTION FRAUDS.

Indictments Found by Chicago Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. Eight indictments were voted yesterday by the grand jury against men alleged to be guilty of election frauds, Nov. 6 in the 30th precinct of the 34th ward. Three of the individuals are policemen. This action is the first fruit of the the civic federation. The persons against whom indictments were voted are charged with intimidation and otherwise interfering with legal voters. Sufficient testimony, it is said, was heard by the grand jury which would lead to the indictments of many others.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 20. The grand jury inquiry into the frauds at the recent election bore fruit yesterday. Eight indictments have been found against five policemen and nine citizens for various grades of crime at the polls.

Henry Loomis Nelson Soon to Assume the Editorial Helm of Harper's Weekly.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. The Tribune says that the editor's chair of Harper's Weekly, which, since the death of George William Curtis, has been vacant, will be occupied by Henry Loomis Nelson. The new editor-in-chief, who will assume the editorial helm of the weekly on Monday next, is a well known political writer and for nearly twenty years has been identified with contemporaneous political literature. Since the death of George William Curtis, Mr. Nelson has been a constant contributor to the editorial columns of Harper's Weekly and for many months has been virtually its managing editor.

OUR MINISTER TO RUSSIA.

Rumored that Clifton E. Breckinridge is on the Point of Resigning.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. A special to a morning paper from Little Rock, Ark., says: Clifton R. Breckinridge, Minister to Russia, is rumored to be on the point of resigning and returning to this State as a permanent citizen. It is said Breckinridge has written of such intention to a friend in Washington. It is announced in the Daily Democrat that he finds the salary of $17,500 a year totally inadequate to keep up the position in style in which it should be maintained by the Ambassador from America. None of Breckinridge's friends here have heard anything from him to this effect, but it is given out that the principal motive that would induce him to take the step would be the desire for further honors from Democrats of the State who have elected him to Congress for five times in succession, and who might give him another term should he stand against Congressman Little of the Second District in 1896. The Governorship and United States Senatorship, his friends claim, a also in his reach, both offices having to be filled in twenty-four months' time.

THE CASTINE

Goes Out for a Short Run.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. The U. S. S. Castine passed out at Sandy Hook early this morning for a short run outside. The Castine is a sister ship to the Machias and to-day is being officially tested for the first time since being lengthened at the Brooklyn navy yard. If a favorable report is made to the Navy Department the ship will doubtless soon receive orders to sail for the South Atlantic station.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Protest Against Rules Regarding Road and Sea.

Announcement of Corean Government Relative to Chinese Residents.

PARIS, Dec. 20. D. M. Tournerie, Chief Engineer of the new Panama Canal Co., states that although 800 men are working at the Culebra Cutting, a definite plan is not likely to be decided on for eighteen months. Fifteen engineers went out a month ago and all of them are about to start on a thorough survey of the Isthmus. When the survey shall be complete, M. Tournerie will go to examine the route personally. Then he will preside over a commission which will decide whether the work shall be continued or abandoned.

Announcement of Corean Government.

LONDON, Dec. 20. The Times correspondent in Kobe says: The Corean Government announces that the Chinese will only be allowed to reside at the treaty ports.

Protest Against Rules Regarding Road and Sea.

LONDON, Dec. 20. The committee of Lloyds wrote to the Board of Trade a few days ago to protest against the new regulations as regards the rules of road and sea. They said the regulations, if introduced, would complicate the system of fog sound signals and would not relieve British ship owners of infringement of international regulations by screening side lights. The Board has replied that the Washington conference unanimously adopted sound signals and side lights which coincided with the international code and therefore the ship owners did not run any risk from foreign tribunals.

Report that Stevenson, the Novelist, is not Dead.

EDINBURGH, Dec. 20. Dr. Balfour, uncle of Robert Louis Stevenson, has written a letter to the Scotsman, in which he says the relatives of the novelist believe that Mr. Stevenson is not dead, but that his wife is. Mrs. Stevenson, Dr. Balfour writes, had been treated for aneurism of the brain while in Scotland. Moreover, she said to relatives in Edinburgh last spring: "Do not believe any report about Louis unless I write you." No message has been received from Mrs. Stevenson, although there has been ample time since Mr. Stevenson was reported to have died.

Ex-Premier Giolitti in Berlin.

BERLIN, Dec. 20. Ex-Premier Giolitti of Italy, leader of the last attack upon Crispi, arrived here yesterday. He is reported to have exclaimed as he left the station: How delightful to be away from politics. I beg everybody not to mention politics during my visit here. I do not desire to see the newspapers, Italian or German. He refused to grant an interview.

Lord Lonsdale Interviewed.

LONDON, Dec. 20. In an interview to-day Lord Lonsdale, the well known yachtsman said: "If the New York Yacht Club does not accept our last offer in my opinion there will not be another international yacht race for a generation. We feel we have done everything to bring about satisfactory arrangements. The Americans are acting in a childish and unsportsmanlike manner."

TOOK POISON.

Newspaper Man Found Dead in His Room.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 20. A. F. Kumnor, aged 50, and married, was found dead in his room in the Cherokee Hotel last night, with an empty phial labelled laudanum in his hand. The deceased was at one time an editorial writer on the Westliche Post, of this city, and was a capable and accomplished newspaper man.

VARIOUS INDICTMENTS

For United States Circuit Court—McKean's Case.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 19. The grand jury reported the following indictments to the U. S. circuit court this forenoon: Minia Worcester, of Pittsburg, Geo. Nakashin, of Pittsfield, George H. Mins, of Keene, and Charles E. Buckham, of Nashua, violating the postal laws; Annie R. Brown and Georgie Woods, of Nashua, and Charles W. Minnifield, of Manchester, violating the internal revenue laws. Nakashin pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs. Brown and Woods also pleaded guilty and each was fined $10, with $25 costs.

The grand jury was excused for the present, but will be called back to consider the case of McKean, the alleged Nashua Bank defaulter, if the government can get the matter in condition to present it to them before the term closes. Otherwise the case will go by until March.

COTTON GOODS SALE.

Has an Upward Effect in Prices.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. The sale at auction of 25,000 cases and bales of domestic cotton goods by order of Bliss, Fabyan & Co., was begun this forenoon by Wesmerding, Morris & Mitchell at No. 64 White street, in the presence of a number of buyers, representing the largest houses of the country, from Portland, Me., to San Francisco. The sale opened with several lots of Pepperell browns of 30, 33 and 36 inch widths, followed by constitution cottons, wide sheetings, bleached Pepperells, Swissburgs and Androscoggins. Then came several lots of Millbury feather tickings, with some fancy tickings, from the Palmer, Victoria and Thorndike mills. Competition was brisk from the very beginning of the sale and the auctioneers declare the prices obtained were satisfactory. It is believed that this morning's sales will determine the prices in the cotton goods market for some time to come. Prices on the cotton market went up shortly after the sale began, owing, it is claimed to the prices offered by buyers.

USE IT IN TIME.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucous, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and often times a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

THE LAWYER'S BEST FEE.

"Fee simple, and the simple fee,
And all the fees entail
Are nothing when compared to thee
Thou best of fees—fe-male!"

That is what a lawyer wrote in his wife's album. He kept her in the best of health and humor by providing her with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for those seasons of sickness, debility and backache, which are the peculiar lot of the female sex.

A minister at Okmulgee, Creek Nation, Ind. T., says: "I am pleased to stand as a witness for your 'Favorite Prescription.' My wife was an invalid for about 17 months. Every remedy was used for her health, and money spent in vain, but no relief could be obtained. Your 'Favorite Prescription' was recommended to me and I obtained one bottle. Her health soon began to improve, and she was actually cured by it. It is a wonderful medicine. Every invalid lady ought to obtain it."

Whig and Courier.

BY BOUTELLE BROTHERS.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle Brothers, and communications intended for publication should be addressed "Editor of Whig and Courier."

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1894

The Assessorship.

Some of our contemporaries in the Western part of the State, a sect on that has two representatives on the Board of Assessors, express some surprise that there should be another candidate than Mr. Burleigh in the field. In view of the statement which we publish from James Adams, Esq., this morning, the surprising feature of the case is Mr. Burleigh's candidacy. Mr. Adams was an influential member of the last Legislature and he writes over his own name that it was distinctly stated by the friends of Mr. Burleigh that if elected at that session he would not ask for re-election in 1895. Other gentlemen who were interested in the contest of that session have also informed us that his was the general understanding at the time.

It is urged that Mr. Burleigh should be re-elected as the especial representative of the farming interests, but those who take this position seem to overlook Mr. Hayford, who, as Mr. Adams writes, was elected as a member of the original board on the very ground that he was a representative farmer and would be entirely satisfactory to those engaged in agricultural pursuits. His judgment in the valuation of farm property is certainly unquestioned and it would seem that the great agricultural interest of the State had no reason to doubt his sagacity or his loyalty in adjusting questions of taxation.

It is certain that these interests will have no truer friend on the board than Mr. Strickland should he be elected. He is an eminently fair minded man, one capable of placing a just valuation on all property without fear or favor, one whose long business experience well qualifies him for the duties of this particular office. It is only just that the Eastern part of the State should have representation on the board and Mr. Strickland is receiving letters every day from members of the Legislature and other influential citizens cordially endorsing his candidacy.

Our Panic Makers.

The New York Tribune says: Secretary Carlisle has achieved bad eminence in one respect. In fifty years no other man has ever caused so many panics. When he put through the House his 3 per cent. bank bill a dozen years ago, the surrender of circulation by the banks startled everybody, and prices of stocks fell about $500,000,000 in a week. When he talked of redeeming Treasury notes in silver, early in 1893, the most disastrous panic for fifty years began at once. Now his Currency bill has knocked a hole in the bottom of the Treasury, and the loss of reserve will sink it, if not soon arrested. Secretary Carlisle has not meant to do harm in any of these cases. He simply does not comprehend the conditions which are necessary for the safety of the finances.

The failure of the Administration to stand its Silver Currency bill down the throats of Democrats in the House before the holidays probably means that the bill will fail in that body, as it would have failed in the Senate. If members wait to hear from their constituents they will not support the bill. If they wait to see what the country thinks, the withdrawals of gold, over $1,000,000 Monday, will enlighten them. What irreverent Democratic journals call "this half-baked bill," which Secretary Carlisle says he hastily dictated to a stenographer, never should have been submitted by the Administration. But as that blunder has been made, the only way to repair it is to kill the bill.

Democratic members of Congress should do this without unnecessary delay. It is not a time to stand on etiquette when a drowning man is to be saved. The Administration had no decent respect for intelligence or the conscientious feeling of the House when it attempted to force through this botch of a measure before anybody could read the testimony taken about it, and the House has no occasion to be specially delicate about the feelings of the President or Secretary. Mastery is good when it is genuine; when it proves its right by thoroughness and wisdom in leadership. But bungling and blundering mastery is a thing to be resented by every man. The reasons why this bill ought to be quickly beaten is that it is pregnant with [illegible]. Every hour it remains pending, with the possibility of passing, it does incalculable mischief.

Of course other causes contribute to produce the heavy outgoes of gold, just as other causes contributed in 1884 and 1893 to produce the disasters of those years, for even Mr. Carlisle does not beget panics entirely alone. There must be conditions which make it possible. But when the party of disaster gets full control, there is invariably some Democratic financier to touch off the explosive mixture, and twice in ten years it has been Mr. Carlisle. He will be fortunate, from present appearances, if he does not add another serious financial depression to his record this year.

Gold going abroad at the rate it has been going, about $6,500,000 in ten days, at a time when exports exceed imports of merchandise from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 per month, has a bad look. But that is a small part of the trouble. The Treasury has lost $19,000,000 gold during these ten days—about three times as much as has gone abroad. If President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle cannot understand, and persist in partisan financial schemes to the extent of smashing things, they will break their own record for panic-making. No other party, no other pair of financial wizards, ever produced two panics in ten years, but these men, if nobody stops them, will produce three.

The New York Herald referring to the same subject says: The effort to limit the debate on Mr. Carlisle's currency bill has failed and the House has entered upon a sea of talk.

There is no reason to expect any practical result from the discussion of this curious scheme, which is not even supported by a majority of the committee that so hastily reported it.

All the same its progress has created a feeling of uneasiness, and timid people are drawing gold out of the Treasury, in exchange for legal tender paper, in very large amounts.

Treasury officials now refuse to make the customary afternoon statement of the amount withdrawn from the Sub-Treasury in this city during the day, but the information can be deduced from the official daily memoranda of balances.

From this data it appears that more than two and a half millions more of the precious metal was yesterday taken from the Sub-Treasury. About seventy-five millions of the gold recently obtained for bonds has now been pulled out of the Treasury vaults, and the prospective need of another issue of bonds caused a further decline yesterday in the price of the five per cents.

ORDINANCE,

Electrical Appliances.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Bangor, as follows:

SEC. 1. There shall be elected annually at the time fixed for the election of other subordinate city officers, or as soon thereafter as convenient, one person skilled in the science of electricity to be styled "Superintendent of Wires," who shall hold office until a successor is duly elected and qualified. He shall be removable at the pleasure of the City Council, and shall receive such compensation for his services as the said Council may determine.

SEC. 2. It shall be his duty to thoroughly inform himself in regard to the location of all poles and wires within the city, and so far as it may affect life or property, the situation and condition of all electrical appliances whatever, promptly reporting to the Mayor everything he considers hazardous. He shall keep an inventory of all property in his department and its estimated value, also an account of his transactions, and report the same annually to the City Council on the first Monday in March, or oftener if required.

SEC. 3. The Superintendent of Wires shall supervise every wire or cable over or under streets or buildings; he shall notify the person or corporation owning or operating any such wire or cable whenever its attachments, insulation, supports or appliances are unsuitable or unsafe, and shall have removed at the expense of the owner thereof every wire abandoned for future use; and he shall see that all ordinances and regulations relating to his duties, and to the location, erection, maintenance, insulation and removal of wires or cables over or under streets or buildings, are strictly complied with and enforced.

SEC. 4. Said Superintendent of Wires shall examine every application for the erection of any wire, or poles or posts for the support thereof, in or over any street or public place, or for conduits under any street or public place for such wire, and shall report to them any facts which in his opinion bear upon the question of granting or refusing to grant such application.

SEC. 5. Said Superintendent of Wires shall have authority, whenever in his opinion the public safety requires it, to direct any corporation or persons using or operating any such wires, to shut off the electric current therefrom for such period of time as said Superintendent of Wires may deem necessary. And the Chief Engineer of Fire Department shall have authority in case of fire, to have the current shut off from such wires as he knows or believes to be dangerous to life or property. And any such corporation or person who shall refuse to shut off such current in accordance with the order of said Superintendent of Wires or Chief Engineer shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for each and every hour during which the direction of said Superintendent of Wires or Chief Engineer shall be disregarded, and said Superintendent of Wires shall have authority to employ such assistants as he may deem necessary under the control of the Municipal officers.

SEC. 6. Every person or corporation owning or operating a line of wires over streets or buildings in the city, shall use only wires that are suitable and strong, shall suitably and safely attach them to strong and sufficient supports, and properly insulate them at all points of attachment; shall remove all wires abandoned for future use; shall suitably insulate every wire where it enters a building, and shall attach to it at suitable and convenient points in the circuit, in order to prevent danger from fire, and near the place of entering the building, an appliance calculated to prevent at all times a current of electricity of such intensity or volume as would be capable of injuring electrical instruments or causing fire, from entering the building by means of such wire.

SEC. 7. All wires, appliances and apparatus in the interior of public buildings, and which are intended for the transmission of electricity, and to be connected with an outside circuit, shall be made and at all times kept safe, and shall be placed, arranged, attached, changed and maintained by the person or corporation owning or using the same to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Wires.

SEC. 8. Every person or corporation owning, leasing or operating wires as above described, shall within twenty-four hours after notice served by the Superintendent of Wires, make such substitution or repairs of posts, supports, cross arms or stays for the safe carrying of such wires, as may be required by said Superintendent of Wires.

SEC. 9. No such person or corporation shall permit pieces of wire to be left on the surface of any street or sidewalk, nor permit unused coils, or loose ends of wire to remain attached to any cross-arm or post more than twenty four hours.

SEC. 10. All persons wishing to run wires in the City of Bangor shall make a written application to the Municipal Officers and Superintendent of Wires, stating direction and all details and the Municipal Officers shall meet and act upon the application.

SEC. 11. All wires when placed above the surface of the ground shall be suspended from poles or buildings, or other supports, to be maintained by the persons or corporations using such wires.

SEC. 12. No wire shall be suspended from or attached to any building for the purpose of conducting electricity, unless by special permission of the owner of such building.

SEC. 13. The location and height of all poles and wires shall be under the direction and control of the Municipal Officers, who may at any time, and from time to time in their discretion, direct changes to be made therein, as the public safety may require, after interested parties have been given an opportunity to be heard before the Municipal Officers.

SEC. 14. Permission given by the Municipal Officers to erect or maintain such poles and wires may be altered or amended in whole or in part, at any time after thirty days' notice, and opportunity to be heard shall have been given to the parties interested, and any such poles or wires may be removed by said city, its officers, agents or servants, from time to time, or at any time, without notice, in case of fire or other public necessity.

SEC. 15. All persons and corporations exercising any privileges under this ordinance, shall adopt and use in their business any devices and safeguards which may from time to time be discovered or invented, for the protection of persons and property against injury growing out of the use of electric currents for the purpose aforesaid. And whenever the laying of electric wires beneath the ground shall be deemed by the City Council practicable for the purposes aforesaid, all persons and corporations maintaining or using wires above ground shall, when required by the City Council, take down and remove at their own expense all their poles used for the support of such wires, and place their mains and conducting wires beneath the ground, and all authority to erect and maintain poles for the purposes aforesaid shall then cease.

SEC. 16. Every person or corporation erecting, maintaining or using such poles or wires, shall, in case of loss or damage, indemnify and save harmless the City of Bangor, its officers, agents and servants, from and against all lawful claims and demands, for injuries to persons or property occasioned by the existence of such poles or wires, or the transmission of electric currents by means thereof, and the said city, its agents and servants, exercising the rights and powers given therein, shall not be held liable by such person or corporation on account thereof, by reason of any injury or damage caused thereby.

SEC. 17. The city shall have the exclusive use of the upper cross-bar and the top above such cross-bar of each part, free of cost for the purpose of placing wires thereon for municipal purposes. Said cross-bar shall be a four pin cross-bar of not less than eight feet in length and shall be placed at not less than three feet from the cross bar next to it.

SEC. 18. All wires carrying a current powerful enough to be dangerous to life, limb or property, shall, wherever they are crossed by an overhead wire owned by the city or by any company, corporation or person, and wherever the said Superintendent of Wires may from time to time order, be suitably protected by a guard wire or wires as said Superintendent of Wires shall determine.

SEC. 19. All wires used for the above purposes shall be subject to the following conditions: That no permanent rights shall be obtained in the streets or public grounds by reason of such use, and that such wires shall be subject to change of location or removal when deemed necessary for the public interests, on order of the Municipal Officers; and in case of fire, if necessary, such wires may be cut or removed by order of Superintendent of Wires or Chief Engineer without claims upon the city therefor.

SEC. 20. All persons violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a penalty of not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense, to be recovered by complaint to the use of said city.

Bangor, Dec. 20, 1894. The foregoing ordinance was passed by the City Council of Bangor Dec. 11, 1894.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Trying to Make Over Carlisle's Banking Scheme.

Patchwork Experts Work Over Destructive Measure.

A New Residence for the President Proposed.

WASHINGTON Dec 20 Mr Springer, of Illinois, who has charge of the banking bill in the House, had a conference this morning with Secretary Carlisle in regard to the criticisms made by the opponents to the measure As a result of the conference several amendments were agreed upon which Mr Springer believes will meet some of these objections The Carlisle bill for example limits to [illegible] per cent of the capital stock the circulation of which can be taken out under it

Under the seventh section of the bill it is claimed by some members certain banks having more than 75 per cent circulation would be permitted to take out circulation to the full amount 90 per cent of the capital stock, instead of 75 per cent This an apparent but not real conflict Mr Springer explains and will be remedied so that there will be no confusion and if any bank has such an excess it will be required to retire it by depositing greenbacks for payment in the manner now required by law for retiring circulation

It is believed that the amendment agreed upon by Messrs Springer and Carlisle to-day as well as others Mr Springer has announced his purpose of offering such as the Democratic majority of the committee may deem necessary to perfect the bill to be combined with those portions of the bill which now meet approval will be offered as a substitute for the Carlisle bill to avoid the tedious delay which would result from their consideration as separate propositions

New Residence for the President Proposed

Mr Richardson (Dem Tenn) introduced in the House to day a bill appropriating $1 000 000 to provide a suitable residence for the President of the United States The bill proposes to locate the structure at the head of 14th street [illegible] Columbia Heights

STATE ASSESSORS

Submit Their Report—Matters of Importance to the Taxpayers

AUGUSTA Me Dec 20 The eleventh annual report of the Maine State board of assessors was submitted to the Governor and Council to-day The following are the valuations assessed against a number of towns and cities

Lewiston	$13 416
Portland	40 89[illegible] 091
[illegible]	1 [illegible] 089

Calais	3 185 43

Houlton	1 323 35
[illegible]	1[illegible] 0 0

They report the total number of polls as 178 [illegible] an increase of 11 208 over 1892 Their assessed valuation of real estate is $232 [illegible] 242 a gain from 1892 of $14 114 027 personal estate $71 [illegible] 512 or $3 [illegible] 170 wild lands $17 104 317, loss of [illegible] timber and grass on public lands $487 960 gain of $72 746, total valuation of the State $324 478,321, a gain of $10 148 140 over 1892

A law is recommended by the assessors that owners of all wild lands shall be required to send to the State assessors a legal description of such lands owned by them also that owners and registers of deeds shall within thirty days send in a record of sales and transfers

The following recommendations for amendments to the law relating to taxation are made There should be a charge in the law relating to the taxation of musical instruments There is too large a percentage of personal property tax levied on this class of property in poor rural towns

Returns of valuation from local assessors show a healthy increase shipping and live stock excepted The falling off in the value of shipping returns has been 11 1 16 per cent The assessors leave to the Legislature any change in the law relating to the taxation of live stock Some action should be taken by the Legislature to determine whether bicycles should be taxed It is an utter impossibility to carry out the law relating to the taxation of savings banks and there is evidence that a change in the present law is necessary

There is necessity for some definite legislation in regard to the taxation of electric roads There should be a change in the collateral inheritance law The number and value of the estates subject to such tax are beyond my estimates which were made There is no question at the testimony, after death, of the estate of millions of dollars worth of property from taxation during the life of its owners If any property is to be fully taxed it should be that included in collateral inheritances

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Statues of Stark and Webster Presented to Congress.

Several Speeches in Both Houses Attend the Event.

Some Matters of Business Considered on Thursday.

Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 Mr. Peffer presented a memorial from a sugar manufacturing establishment in Kansas on the subject of the sugar bounty, and asked permission to read it in full, but objection was made by Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, on the ground that there was very important business on hand to-day (the presentation of the statues of General Stark and Daniel Webster)

Mr Chandler, of New Hampshire, asked the presiding officer to lay before the Senate a communication from the Governor of New Hampshire The presiding officer presented it and it was read as follows

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CONCORD, Dec 5, 1894

To the Hon A E Stevenson, Vice President and President of the Senate

Dear Sir—In accordance with an act passed at the biennial session of 1893, and in acceptance of the invitation contained in section 1,814 of the revised statutes of the United States, the State of New Hampshire has placed in the National Statuary Hall in the Capitol at Washington two statues in marble, the one of John Stark and the other of Daniel Webster

These statues were modeled by Carl Conrads after statues in bronze now in the State House at Concord The original of the Webster statue is by Ball and was presented to the State by Benjamin Pierce Cheney The original statue of Stark is by Conrads and was erected by the State In behalf of the State of New Hampshire I have the honor of presenting these statues to the Congress of the United States

Very Respectfully,
JOHN B SMITH, Governor

Mr Perkins, of California, offered a joint resolution giving the thanks of Congress to the people of New Hampshire for the statue of John Stark, illustrious for his military services, and accepting it to be placed in Statuary Hall

Mr Gallinger then addressed the Senate

Mr Gallinger's address was applauded by the galleries He was followed by Mr Proctor (Rep Vt) who referred to the saying that Stark was a partisan leader He was, he said, a partisan leader he was more than a partisan leader when he held the left of the line of the American army at Bunker Hill and when he commanded at Bennington He was a natural leader of men wherever he might be

The next speaker was Mr Dubois (Rep , Idaho) It would have been a pleasing recompense, he said, to Gen Stark to the hardships he endured had he known that such a republic of states would have been raised on the foundations he had done so much in laying

He builded better than he knew. Even if he could have contemplated the future greatness of the nation which was then being formed, it would not have changed him He did his full duty at all times and under all circumstances and knew no leader superior to his own conscience.

The next speaker was Mr Chandler (Rep N H) A joint resolution in relation to the Stark statue was agreed to and a similar joint resolution was introduced by Mr Hoar, (Rep , Mass) in relation to the Webster statue On this resolution Mr, Chandler also addressed the Senate

At the close of Mr Chandler's speech there was applause in the galleries The speech was followed by one from Mr Hoar Mr Hoar's address was listened to with rapt admiration on the part of Senators and the spectators in the galleries and was warmly applauded at the close It was followed by a speech from Mr Morgan (Dem , Ala) who referred to Mr Webster's last words "I still live" and said "We are here to-day for the purpose of affirming, by the action of this august body that he who lived in this chamber and in this association with so much renown still lives in the hearts of his countrymen and particularly lives in the hearts and admiration of the Senate of the United States"

Replying to Mr Hoar's analysis of the turning point in Webster's popularity in New England, Mr Morgan characterized that incident as the most conspicuous evidence of Mr Webster's moral courage He then obeyed the constitution of the United States rather than the clamor and sentiment of those by whom he was most nearly surrounded That, he (Mr Morgan) considered the highest example which Mr Webster left of the majesty and grandeur and nobility of his character (Applause in the galleries) The next speaker was Mr Morrill (Rep , Vt)

The venerable Mr Morrill, "father of the Senate," was very brief in his tribute to Webster and Stark His observations of Webster were principally reminiscent, as he had heard the great statesman speak on several occasions and had met him personally

"On one of these early Washington visits," he said, "I was present at an all night session of the Senate in the old Senate chamber As the hours grew late all got tired and Mr Webster bent his head over his desk with his face pillowed on his hands, while another Senator, in a rambling speech and suddenly enthused with rapturous admiration for Mr Webster, pronounced him 'the statesman, the historian, the philosopher, the poet,' when Mr Webster, half way raising his head in a gruff voice ejaculated 'enough enough' Senator Butler, of South Carolina, evidently thought so too, but had some difficulty in persuading the jubilant member to take his seat

"A day or two in advance of the meeting of the Whig national convention in Baltimore in 1852, to which I was a delegate, to nominate a Presidential candidate, I visited Washington and was invited with others by Mr Webster then Secretary of State, to a dinner As it was not my intention to support Mr Webster in the convention, the invitation was rather regretted, but being told by a friend that such an invitation here from the President or the Secretary of State was never to be declined, it was accepted

"There were about a dozen at the table Mrs Webster being the only lady. Mr Webster appeared in his blue coat with gilt buttons, light buff vest, low shoes and led the conversation most happily whether grave or gay Upon leaving the dining room the gentlemen all returned to the drawing room and there he was so gracious and attractive in general and special conversation as to quickly place every one at his ease, especially as he did not ever allude to the coming convention

"By way of inquiry as to the preparation of his speeches I ventured to say I had heard it stated that among the passages of ten quoted one had been conceived to him, many years prior to its utterance, and referred to his picturesque description of the power of England 'whose morning drumbeat, following the sun and keeping company with the hours, circles the earth with its continuous and unbroken strain of the martial airs of England.'

"He promptly replied 'As a mere matter of fact it is true that while visiting Quebec several years before the speech of 1834, one morning I arose early as is my wont and walked out upon the ramparts of the city, when I soon heard the morning drum beat It then occurred to me that this, a little later, would be repeated at Montreal, then at Toronto, again in Columbia, and soon round the world,' adding, 'Oh, I never pretended to be one of the inspired geniuses. I bring forth nothing without labor. If not precisely at the time it has cost labor at some time.'

"When I left his residence, then on D street, N. W., Mr. Webster seemed to have grown greater to me and unlike so-called great men, who, as you get nearer to them, become slender, if not mediocre, he appeared more like a Doric temple to loom up more grandly the nearer approached. The next day however I did not vote in his favor at the convention, the speech of March 7, 1850, being insurmountable, but however felt glad and proud that Daniel Webster was born and lived and died in America."

Mr. Morrill was followed by Mr. Davis (Rep., Minn.), and others. The joint resolution was passed.

The House urgency deficiency bill for the eleventh census and for fees for witnesses in United States courts, was reported to the Senate and passed. The Senate adjourned till Saturday.

House.

In the House at 3 o'clock Mr. Baker, of New Hampshire, formerly presented to Congress the statue of Gen. Stark. He was followed a little later by Mr. Blair, in a speech presented the statue of Daniel Webster, both being the gifts of the state of New Hampshire. They were unveiled at 2 o'clock by the architect of the Capitol. Mr. Baker was the first speaker and was followed by Representatives Powers and Grout, of Vermont, Blair, of New Hampshire, Everett, of Massachusetts, and Curtis, of New York.

Mr Breckinridge (Dem , Ky.) from the Committee on Appropriations reported the urgency deficiency bill carrying $300,000 for continuing the work of the eleventh census. He stated that the urgency deficiency bill passed by the House last week, including this with other items would not pass the Senate before the holidays, and unless this sum was appropriated the bureau would have to be closed. Mr. Cannon (Rep , Ill) suggested the importance of including in the bill the appropriation of $350,000 also made in the bill passed last week for payment of witnesses and jurors in United States Courts

The bill was amended by the insertion of $100,000 for this purpose and as thus amended was passed On motion of Mr. Sickles (Dem , N Y) the Senate bill granting a pension of $100 a month to Mary Palmer Banks, widow of Gen N P Banks, was passed Mr Outhwaite (Dem., Ohio) from the Committee on Rules, offered a concurrent resolution providing for a holiday recess from Dec 22 to Jan 3 Mr English (Dem , N J) who had introduced a bill still unacted upon, made a point of no quorum on the vote on its passage—yeas 49, nays 0—whereupon the resolution was withdrawn

Mr McCreary (Dem , Ky) reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs a resolution offered by Mr Blair, (Rep , N. H) calling for all the correspondence between this government and those of Japan and China, respecting the pending war. The resolution went to the calendar

The House went into committee of the whole and further discussed the currency bill Mr Sperry, (Dem., Conn) member of the Committee on Banking and Currency, spoke generally in support of the bill He criticised the provision of the bill which changed the form, value and amount of security deposited to secure notes already issued and asserted that Congress had not the constitutional power to make the change

He would move to amend the bill by making the provision in this regard apply to notes hereafter to be issued and leave security for notes already out undisturbed The abolition of the redemption bureau in Washington was also objected to by Mr Sperry He thought it should be permissive in character and supplement the national bank law Mr Sperry said at present gold was really at a premium, because the banks and business men preferred it to silver in reserves and accounts, and this was due to the fact that there was impending over the people six hundred millions of silver the parity with gold resting upon a tremulous basis

Mr Brosius (Rep , Pa) opposed the bill He said that discussion had developed the fact that the friends of the measure, while advocating its passage, were opposed to every section of it He maintained that every witness before the Banking and Currency Committee substantially predicted a financial crash to follow the enactment of the bill He asserted that the bill would not even tend to relieve the existing conditions

The resolution accepting the statues was agreed to and the House adjourned

THE LEXOW INQUIRY

Testimony Before the Committee on Thursday

NEW YORK, Dec 20. Walter S Harrison was called before the Lexow commission to-day He said he was a builder and he built the Morris building He found it necessary to bridge the sidewalks and got a permit from the department of public works While building a bridge he had a visit from Wardman Burns, who spoke about occupying the sidewalk, and said he expected to be paid for it. Witness said he had a permit Burns said the witness would have to pay the police for looking after him Witness refused to pay and his foreman was arrested and brought to the Tombs The case was called, the foreman showed the judge the permit and the case was dismissed Witness asked the officer why he arrested the foreman and he said he only obeyed orders

Burns came around again a few days after and said Harrison had to pay $250 if he did not want trouble Witness paid $250 the next day He gave it to Burns in the station house in a private room Was not molested after that

Captain Strauss was called "You remember sending Officer Leonard to watch a 'fence' during election day in 1893? Wasn't he too officious at the polls to suit you?"

The captain explained that when Leonard was relieved from the polling place to get breakfast he was sent up to scare away some boys breaking windows up town

He denied that Leonard was removed from duty at the polling place because the local Tammany leader complained that Leonard was too officious and had driven away the "heelers

"From whom did you get orders for election day in 1893?"

"From the superintendent of police"

Captain Strauss said Byrnes orders were not to allow electioneering within one hundred and fifty feet of the polls

IMPORTANT NEWS.

The War Between China and Japan Practically Ended.

Supposed That China Will Accede to All Demands.

Enough Known to Believe Hostilities Will Soon Cease.

LONDON, Dec 20 A dispatch from Tien Tsin to the Central News says Prince Ching, president of Tsungli Yamen, is wholly to blame for the refusal of the government to issue passports to foreign guards to proceed to Pekin to protect their respective legations The protests of various foreign representatives against this action resulted in dissentions in the imperial council

Prince Chin has been granted two days' leave of absence on the plea of ill health It is probable that he will resign his office Tsungli Yamen has granted to the British legation passes for fifty men and to the other foreign legations an average of ten to twelve passes each were issued

War Practically Ended

LONDON, Dec 20 Important despatches were received to-night from Tokio, indicating clearly that practically the war between China and Japan is ended Whatever instructions were conveyed to the commanders of the respective military and naval forces from the governing powers of the two empires was not told in the despatches

Assurances are given in quarters known to be thoroughly cognizant of diplomatic affairs that the Emperor of China was prevailed upon to hasten commissioners to Japan and these envoys have such power of concession as will without doubt enable them to bring about an immediate thorough end of hostilities

The details of their authority are not given but the presumption is not ignored in diplomatic quarters that the concessions asked by the Japanese government met the acquiescence of the reigning powers of China

CENTRAL CLUB LECTURE

Deeply Interesting Talk on the War Between China and Japan

The extra lecture last evening before the Central Club was by the Rev Mr Kitishima, of Vineland, New Jersey, who spoke upon a subject that was doubly interesting as coming from a native of Japan,—the conflict now going on between that country and China That upon the outcome of this war depends the future of the Orient there can be no doubt in the minds of the thoughtful observers A nation numbering only forty millions of people have taken up arms against one numbering six hundred million A terrible odds, it would seem, but in this war neither numbers nor wealth count It is really a war between mind and matter, and the Japanese is determined to get hold of China that he may civilize it

In the beginning China was the superior nation and Japan was only too glad to follow her lead in literature, religion and the arts of government, but now a great change has passed over the latter nation, and her keen witted sons, having once opened their gates to the occidental world, have, within the last forty years, made an advance in civilization unheard of before in any nation of the globe She has sent her most promising young men to America, where in our colleges and universities, they have proved themselves apt scholars in all the arts and sciences, while in many cases, they have borne back to their native land the precious treasure of a faith in the one and only God

In regard to the causes of the present war the speaker summed them up briefly as, first, the contemptuous treatment of that country by China and her scorn of their advances in western civilization second, the encroachments of China upon the peninsula of Corea, by sending her troops in utter defiance of the treaty between the sister kingdoms, to put down a rebellion in Corea

Now was the moment for which Japan had waited all these years, and war ships were promptly sent to the seat of war, to protect her own subjects in that land, and to demand a reason for this flagrant violation of a solemn treaty by which each nation had bound herself to send no armed troops to Corea without the consent of the other

To the demand of the Japanese Admiral the Corean King declared himself an independent monarch and solicited the aid of Japan to drive the Chinese troops from his realm

The progress of the war was faithfully pictured, with the aid of blackboard drawings and the audience listened with the keenest interest to the details of what has been from the first a losing game on the part of China whose soldiers, Mr Kitishima declares have not a grain of patriotism in their whole make up, but are simply driven into the army against their will and desire The stories of cruelties practiced upon the captive Chinese were emphatically denied by the speaker, who insisted that by the strict command of the commanding general, all prisoners had been treated with humanity

What the consequences must be if Japan succeeds in humbling the Celestials, were earnestly set forth—the wonderful advance in civilization and more than all the increased facilities for spreading the gospel, a work that an oriental nation like Japan is far better able to do than the western missionary

The next lecture by President Whitman of Colby, will be in a week from next Monday

I also know that Mr Otis Hayford, of Canton, was elected to satisfy the farmers of the western part of the State

It was also distinctly understood and agreed that the eastern part of the State should have one Republican member on the board

BANGOR & AROOSTOOK

Heavy Shipments of Freight Awaiting Competition of the Lines

The Boston Herald says

Few railroads projected in these later days have better promise of making the hearts of their stockholders glad than the Bangor & Aroostook A private letter to friends in this city from F E Rogers the contractor of the extension that will connect Caribou with the main system, and bearing the date of Brownville, says that Caribou was reached on the 14th

It is further stated that immense quantities of freight are awaiting shipment at Fort Fairfield, Presque Isle and Caribou all of which will be sent over the road this week Trains will have to be run night and day to relieve the congestion There are stored at the three points mentioned above more than 300,000 bushels of potatoes and when these are disposed of other consignments, equally as large will be made The future of this road is indeed promising and there is no reason why it should not be a splendidly paying property

A temperance meeting was held at South Brewer Wednesday evening by the Bangor division, Sons of Temperance, and it was very successful and largely attended. Rev. J. A. LEXOW INVESTIGATION.

Testimony Before the Committee Wednesday.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. One of the first visitors before the Lexow committee this morning was Inspector Alexander S. Williams. All the police inspectors, with the exception of Inspector McAvoy, received subpoenas to attend. Police Justice Voorhees will take his place on the stand in order to vindicate himself from any connection with the promotion of Capt. Creeden, for which $15,000 was paid.

Dr. Owen J. Ward was then called. He said he was visiting surgeon at Governeur Hospital and had called to see John Martin at the request of the committee. He found him completely paralyzed in the left arm and leg. Mr. Martin also talked disconnectedly and the witness came to the conclusion that not much reliance could be placed in what he said in his present condition. The witness said Mr. Martin was not mentally capable of undergoing an examination.

Captain Anthony J. Allaire took the stand. He said he had been on the force twenty-nine years and captain since 1867.

He said it was not in his power to suppress the evil in his precinct; he never knew any money to be collected from disorderly houses. Witness said he remembered Spencer's saloon in Hester street, but did not recall the murder committed there.

Mr. Goff said a bartender named Murphy killed a man in the saloon, but Murphy was not arrested. He asked the witness if he did not know that Spencer was one of Superintendent Murray's bondsmen and a personal friend and that was the reason the murder was hushed up. Witness said he knew nothing about it.

"How many Christmas presents did you receive?"

"None." Then the witness said: "Hold on, I may have received some."

"We have proof here that you received Christmas presents every year from liquor dealers."

"Anybody who swore that swore falsely."

"Sergeant Taylor has sworn that he put money in an envelope marked 'street cleaning report,' containing $200 in the drawer of the sergeant's desk. Do you know anything of that envelope?"

"I do not."

Hattie Ross, a young colored woman, who used to run a disorderly house, testified to paying for police protection. Witness said she kept six different houses in the Tenderloin district and in the 22d precinct. She was not raided or pulled for six years.

An adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

Telegraphic Notes.

The committee of the shareholders of the Commercial Bank, of St. Johns, N. F., met again Wednesday. The bank's liabilities are about $2,600,000; assets about $2,000,000, which probably will depreciate one-third through realization. It is estimated that noteholders and depositors will obtain about fifty per cent. Seven provisional trustees, appointed for the present shareholders here made application to the Supreme Court to wind up the bank's affairs. It has been discovered that Mr. Pitts was paid six months interest on money held for him in the bank. The Legislative Committee makes a report very favorable to the Union Bank. It is thought this bank will be able to pay its depositors, noteholders and shareholders in full if given time.

E. Ellery Anderson, one of the government directors of the Union Pacific Railway, appeared before the House Committee on Pacific Railways Wednesday and urged that the legislation formulated by the Committee at its last session be brought before the House at an early day. Mr. Anderson is understood to have intimated that if the Reilly bill was amended in several particulars it would be doubtless acceptable to the government. Chairman Reilly was instructed again to ask Speaker Crisp to give the Committee a day for the consideration of the measure.

An Auburn man bought a piano at a Lewiston store a week ago, as a Christmas present for his daughter. Paying for it down he ordered it delivered Christmas morning, but unable to stand the strain of secrecy he came over two days afterwards and told the dealer to have it carried over at once.

Cumberland.

A boy named Asa Archibald entered the smoking car of the west bound Pullman at Portland, Tuesday, and stole two overcoats belonging to two wealthy Brighton cattle men. He was arrested after a hard chase and when caught destroyed $1,000 worth of papers found in the coats.

Two young boys were before Judge Gould at Portland the other day, charged with stealing an overcoat worth $5 from C. D. Cunningham. Their names are Stephen McDonough and Walter R. B. Reed, and they are about fifteen and twelve years of age, though McDonough declares that he is seventeen years old. They were sentenced to the Reform School during their minority. McDonough has served in the Reform School already, and was only let out about eight weeks ago on probation. Perhaps that is why he insists that he is seventeen years of age, though he doesn't look it, and previous statements made to the police when sent to the Reform School the first time don't agree with it. He is a reckless youth and looks like the pictures of the "Artful Dodger." He declared that no walls at the Reform School could hold him, and that he should escape at the first opportunity. He expected to go to prison some time, but decidedly objected to the Reform School. The overcoat was stolen from in front of the store at about 6.30 in the evening. The boys were selling the coat in a pawn shop when they saw the officer coming. They ran, and he saw them, and this led to their arrest, whereas had they kept still, they would probably have escaped.

Franklin.

When Mme. Nordica was simply Lillian Norton, her cousin "Pinkie" Norton, from the same Maine village where both girls passed their childhood, was counted by far the more attractive of the two girls, and the better singer. They both went to Boston to study and there "Pinkie's" teachers prophesied for her greater lyrical triumphs than Lillian could ever earn. But Lillian did not begrudge long continued application and "Pinkie" did; and while Mme. Nordica (born Norton) is the idol of the hour at Bayreuth, "Pinkie" is simply Mrs. Brackett, the wife of an organist, and only sings in church and now and then to please her neighbors. There is another song bird in the family, the beautiful young daughter of Mme. Nordica's sister, Mrs. Walker, of Roxbury, Mass. Miss Walker is a brilliantly handsome girl of twenty or less, reflecting in her dress and manner her long sojourn in Paris, where she studied under leading teachers. She is now at her mother's home, pursuing her vocal cultivation under a well known American teacher; and the prophets who see in her a second and much younger edition of her renowned aunt, confidently expect that the operatic world will some day hear from Mlle. Norton Walker.

The Waterville Loan and Building Association has just completed another six months' business and has declared its usual semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent. During the seven years that the association has been doing business it has never failed to declare a dividend at the same rate.

A generous man has given to some ladies in Waterville a quantity of good cloth to make up into garments for the Good Will boys. When these were sent it was thought it would be a good plan to fill up the box with groceries and other useful things to send about Christmas time. So an opportunity was given for grocers, confectioners, druggists, clothiers, hardware men and dealers of all kinds to unite in enlarging the contribution. Almost without exception the response was hearty and generous, so that a handsome gift will be sent at once largely from the dealers up and down the length of Main street.

Probably no man in this country had a more intimate acquaintance with Robert Louis Stevenson, the famous Scotch novelist, whose death at Samoa is announced, than Harold M. Sewall, of Bath, who while Consul at Apia lived in intimate relationship with Mr. Stevenson for many months. Mr. Sewall says he has had some hopes that the news of the death of the author may be incorrect, as it had to travel over a long, indirect and slow route to reach this country. The Ex-Consul received a long letter from Mr. Stevenson only a week or two ago. But there is no lack of confirmation of the great writer's death, apparently.

A detective from Dexter was in Bath Wednesday looking after a couple that had eloped from that town. They were noticed on the streets a few days ago. The young lady was about fourteen years of age and is the daughter of the chef of a leading Boston hotel. The man is thirty years old.

Two families in Saco have not been on speaking terms for some time. They live in adjacent houses, the windows of which face each other, and the children, and 'tis said even the heads of the families have been in the habit of standing in the windows and making faces at each other. This has become so obnoxious that one family has secured a lot of brushwood and tacked it up over the window.

Treaty Relations Between United States and Turkey.

A Washington despatch says: In official circles little reliance is placed on reports without date from Constantinople via Boston, imputing to Minister Terrell absence of solicitude for American citizens, especially as all his correspondence with the State Department indicates marked activity in behalf of the Americans who brought complaints to him. Mr. Terrell in many instances has been exceedingly frank in his insistence that American passports be respected by Turkish officials. September 29, 1893, Mr. Terrell wrote Secretary Gresham as follows:

The unsatisfactory condition of the treaty relations between the United States and Turkey on the subject of naturalization is daily becoming more embarrassing. Recent correspondence between the Turkish Minister and yourself on the subject of the Turkish policy in refusing to naturalize Armenian subjects and a right to return here, has had its origin in their belief, and they returned only for seditious work. I was applied, to almost daily to relieve the returning Armenians from arrest. Thus far, while the Turkish will not concede to those naturalized after 1869, the status of American citizenship has succeeded in securing in each case the relief needed. In the nature of things, this good fortune in evading trouble cannot last long. I said to the Grand Vizier last week that when my country naturalized a man it followed him with its flag as long as he was honest. While I regretted a disagreement as to the status of the Armenians naturalized since the law of 1869, it could only be regulated as to the future by treaty, as Turkey was the power most interested. I awaited her propositions, for I had no instructions, hence no propositions to make."

Every case brought into question in the Boston complaint was referred to in official correspondence. Mr. Terrell sent a full account to the State Department of the arrest of Paul G. Redighian, in October of last year. He said Redighian was a naturalized citizen of the United States and was arrested and deprived of his passports, but released on bail, no offense being alleged. His release was secured on the demand of the Consul General of the United States. Mr. Terrell did not learn of the case until the day before he wrote. October 21 he reported to the State Department that Redighian was permitted to go into the interior, as he desired. Mr. Terrell added: He will, of his own volition, return here in thirty days en route for the United States. October 27, Secretary Gresham sent Minister Terrell a cablegram, recognizing the right of Turkey to exclude an alien and stating that the absence of the treaty made it impossible to insist that naturalization of Armenians in the United States should be respected by the Turkish government. On the following day Minister Terrell replied that he demanded the release and surrender of Redighian under authority of instructions of Mr. Bayard, to his predecessor.

This report continues: Contention with the porte has been its claim of right to treat as Turkish subjects those Turks naturalized in the United States since 1869, without consent of the Ottoman government. Under authority of instructions to this legislation above referred to, I could not do otherwise than regard Redighian as the equal of any native born American citizen. I could not do otherwise, under the fourth article of the treaty with the Ottoman porte of 1830, than claim for myself and Consul here the exclusive right to imprison him if he committed an offense. While recognizing the right of porte to exclude returning Turks, I deemed it in the interest of humanity to secure, if possible the issuance of an order by the Grand Vizier to his subordinates, exempting our naturalized citizens from arrest unless they refuse to depart, requiring them in all cases to report the presence of undesirable citizens of the United States to the nearest Consul or consular agent.

The published volume of diplomatic correspondence last year contains numerous other instances of Mr. Terrell's energetic interference in behalf of American naturalized citizens.

To Hon. James H. Burgess, Judge of Probate for the County aforesaid.

The undersigned, Annie C. Pitcher, of Bangor, in said County, as Executrix of the last will and testament of Mrs. Emma Gould Willis, late of Bangor, deceased, respectfully represents, that having entered upon the duty of administering said estate and rendered an inventory of same, as will more fully appear by reference thereto, she, as such Executrix, is in doubt as to the duty devolving upon her as to the manner of administration and disposition of the assets of the estate and more especially as to the amount which she shall pay to the State Treasurer for the tax due and payable under the provisions of the "Act to tax collateral inheritance," being Chapter 146 of the acts of the State of Maine for 1893, all the devisees named in the will of deceased being either collateral relatives of the deceased, or strangers, no one of them all being within the relationship excepted from the payment of such tax, reference to her said will to be had.

Wherefore being desirous of properly administering the assets of said estate according to law and more particularly to pay to the Treasurer of State the proper sum due for taxes under said act, and doubts existing as to the proper legal sum payable therefor, and the principle on which an estimate of the proper sum shall be determined, the undersigned respectfully prays your Honorable Court to hear and determine all questions which may arise with respect to the payment of said tax and more especially the amount to be paid and time of payment thereof to the State Treasurer, by her as such Executrix, all according to the provisions of the Statute aforesaid.

And as in duty bound will ever pray.
